DETAILED ACTION

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of the use of the term "means" on line 8. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1-20 contain errors under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph too numerous to mention specifically; however, examples of those errors are as follows:

In claim 1, line 2, applicant claims "...especially for distributing...". The phrase "especially for" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Throughout the claims (i.e., Claim 1, line 10; Claim 2, line 3) the applicant employs the phrase "and/or". The phrase "and/or" is inherently unclear in that it does not allow one to determine the scope of the claimed subject matter (i.e., "features A and B" are of clearly different scope than "feature A or B"). The lack of clarity renders the claimed subject matter indefinite.

In claim 4, line 3, applicant claims "...like driving speed..." and in claim 5, lines 2 and 3, applicant claims "...like scope incline...". As employed here, the term "like" renders the claims indefinite because the claims include elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claims unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

As mentioned above, these are only examples of errors under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. Each claim should be revisited and revised as necessary.
